

Communities That Care (CTC)

The residents of Fountain Valley are taking important steps to address youth substance use and abuse by implementing Communities That Care (CTC), a prevention system that has been proven to reduce alcohol and tobacco use, crime and violence among youth.

The Fountain Valley is part of a statewide CTC effort that seeks to promote healthy youth development, improve outcomes, and reduce problem behaviors among youth through achieving the following objectives:

- Reduce risk or increase protective factors commonly associated with underage use or abuse of substances
- Delay initiation and reduce current use of marijuana, alcohol, and opioids among middle and/or high school students

Our Mission

To prevent youth substance use in the Fountain Valley by providing resources, education and opportunities.

Our Vision

To have a safe, inclusive and connected community for youth and families in the Fountain Valley.

Get Involved!

Community involvement is critical to the success of CTC. Organizations and individuals from across Fountain, Ft. Carson, and Widefield/Security are working together to take ownership for the long term health, safety and wellbeing of youth in their communities. We are always looking for volunteers to:

- ① Join a Strategy Implementation Team
- ② Join the Funding Work Group
